

PROJECT FLOW

PROJECT FLOW:

Project flow describes a preset sequence of activities required to plan, produce, deliver and maintain project product, along with information, materials, and resources required by the project. Project flow is a convenient way to define and plan projects.

Project flow for estimating the crop yield using data analytics is shown below.

